Summary: On December 6, 2004, Michael Alcantar, counsel to the Cogeneration Association of California (CAC), met with Julie Fitch, advisor to Pres. Peevey, in San Francisco. Also present were Kelly Lucas, Executive Director, and Phil Herrington, partner of the Mid-Set Cogeneration Company (Mid-Set). Parties reviewed the status of ad hoc negotiations with utilities regarding the retention of cogeneration resources, and possible actions to resolve disputes related to utility offered contract terms or prices. With regard to SO1 offers, parties noted that Pacific Gas and Electric Company had incorporated conditions in its terms and conditions that were not consistent with SO1 contracts. Parties explained that these objectionable terms related to features seeking retroactive adjustment of payments for delivered energy and capacity. With regard to Mid-Set, parties noted that the long term firm power resource cogeneration project was in a unique position of terminating before the establishment of a policy or long run avoided cost determinations. Parties also reviewed options for needed relief related to this long term firm resource timing regarding the establishment of a firm, long term contract in light of the operating conditions associated with Mid-Set.

12/10/04	I02-11-040	Order Instituting Investigation into the Gas Market Activities of Southern California Gas Company, San Diego Gas & Electric Company, Southwest Gas Company, Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and Southern California Edison Company and their impact on the Gas Price Spikes experienced at the California Border from March 2000 through May 2001.

Summary: On December 9, 2004, Bill Reed, Senior Vice President of Regulatory and Strategic Planning, Southern California Gas Company (SoCalGas) Acquisition, met with Cmmr. Brown in San Francisco. Also present were Belinda Gatti and Peter Hanson, advisors to Cmmr. Brown, Jim Harrigan, Vice President of SoCalGas Acquisition, and Marzia Zafar, CPUC Relations Manager for SoCalGas and

San Diego Gas & Electric Company. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. Exhibit 124, which is a part of the public record in this proceeding, was referenced. Reed explained that Edison's case is nothing but a fictional story. Reed questioned how 5.6 Bcf could be the cause of the energy crisis. Reed also explained that contrary to claims made by both the proposed decision (PD) and Edison that SoCalGas congested the market in December, SoCalGas actually reduced the amount of gas due to flow into the hub during December. Reed also noted that SoCalGas arranged loans in November that would be taken out in December, thus offsetting some of the December loan repayments, a fact ignored by both Edison and the PD. Harrigan discussed his thought process during the period in question and explained that protecting the core customers was his top priority, and that using financial hedging instruments to protect border purchases was prudent.

Order Instituting Rulemaking to promote policy and program coordination and integration in electric utility resource planning.

Summary: On December 7, 2004, Greg Blue, Senior Director, Government Affairs, Dynegy, Inc., met with Julie Fitch, advisor to Pres. Peevey, and David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, in two separate meetings in San Francisco. Also present was Brian Cragg of Goodin, MacBride, Squeri, Ritchie and Day, attorneys for West Coast Power (WCP). Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. Blue and Cragg expressed support for the proposed decision (PD) of ALJ Brown. Blue stated WCP would like to see more discussion to support the findings and conclusions on repowering and a clarification of the terminology related to repowering and brownfield development. WCP recommended that the PD should include a consideration of the conclusions and policy recommendations of the Energy Commission's 2004 Update to the Intergrated Energy Policy Report.

Summary: On December 7, 2004, Sheryl Carter, Director, Western Energy Programs at the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC), met with Julie Fitch, advisor to Pres. Peevey, in San Francisco. Also present were Colin E. Cushnie, Director, Regulatory Affairs, and Bruce C. Foster, Vice President, for Southern California Edison Company (SCE). Carter indicated that, with SCE's change of position to support the greenhouse gas (GHG) adder policy in the proposed decision (PD) of ALJ Brown, NRDC supported the revised application of a GHG adder to apply to long-term resource commitments that would require Commission pre-approval. Carter noted that applying it to these long-term resource commitments also simplifies implementation and would allow quicker application of the GHG adder. Carter emphasized that the PD justified the application of a GHG adder because of the financial risk associated with carbon emissions and not as an externality value, and recommended that the PD language be clarified to reflect this.

Summary: On December 9, 2004, Sheryl Carter, Director, Western Energy Program at the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC), met with Julie Fitch, advisor to Pres. Peevey, in San Francisco. Also present was Devra Bachrach, Staff Scientist at NRDC. Bachrach noted that many parties are interpreting the renewables provisions of the draft decision (DD) in very different ways and urged the Commission to clarify the DD's intent to fully implement the Renewable Portfolio Standard (RPS). Bachrach stated that the RPS solicitations should be the main vehicle to procure renewables. Bachrach requested that the Commission provide additional guidance in the DD to ensure that future long-term plans are truly comprehensive, integrated long-term plans. Carter noted that while NRDC would have preferred that the Commission approve funding for the procurement of additional energy efficiency resources in this decision, NRDC does not object to the DD's proposed process of having the administrators file program and funding applications.

Summary: On December 9, 2004, Devra Bachrach, Staff Scientist at the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC), met with Trina Horner, advisor to Cmmr. Lynch, in San Francisco. Bachrach discussed NRDC's support for the draft decision's (DD) proposed 'greenhouse gas (GHG) adder,' because it will help protect customers from financial risk associated with GHG emissions. Bachrach requested that the Commission clarify that the 'GHG adder' represents the financial risk associated with carbon emissions, and is not an externality value. Bachrach recommended that the DD require the utilities to use the GHG adder both in procurement and in future long-term plans. Bachrach noted that many parties are interpreting the renewables provisions of the DD in very different ways and urged the Commission to clarify the DD's intent to fully implement the Renewable Portfolio Standard (RPS). Bachrach stated that the RPS solicitations should be the main vehicle to procure renewables. Summary: On December 7, 2004, Brian Cragg, representing Duke Energy North America, LLC and Duke Energy Marketing, LLC (collectively, "Duke"), met with Manuel Ramirez, advisor to Cmmr. 12/10/04 R03-10-003 Order Instituting Rulemaking to Implement Portions of AB117 concerning Community Choice Aggregation.

Summary: On December 8, 2004, Lad Lorenz, Vice President – Regulatory Affairs, San Diego Gas and Electric Company (SDG&E), met with David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, and Julie Fitch, advisor to Pres. Peevey, in two separate meetings in San Francisco. Also present were Wayne Sakarias, Director of Legislative Analysis, and Billy Blattner, CPUC Relations Manager, for SDG&E. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. Blattner stated that SDG&E supported AB 117 and supports Community Choice Aggregation (CCA), but it must not conflict with utility resource planning and bundled ratepayers must be protected. Sakarias explained that the proposed decision (PD) conflicts with approved procurement and resource adequacy decisions as well as state law. Sakarias also explained that cost responsibility surcharge (CRS) represents the above-market cost of Department of Water Resources (DWR) power, not the cost of the physical power or capacity. Sakarias stated that determination in the PD that CCAs are entitled to 'in-kind' allocation of DWR contracts would result in bundled customers subsidizing free or reduced-cost power to CCA customers. Sakarias expressed concerns about the PD's treatment of confidentiality, phasing in CCA and certain transaction costs, and recommended that the PD clarify that the CRS does not include the bond charge.

	I93-04-002	Commission Order Instituting Investigation on the Commission's own motion into open access and network architecture development of dominant carrier networks.

Summary: On December 8, 2004, Michelle Robinson, Vice President- Regulatory, Verizon California Inc. (Verizon), met with Dr. Timothy Sullivan, advisor to Cmmr. Kennedy, in San Francisco. Also present were Lester Wong, advisor to Cmmr. Peevey, and Kurt Rasmussen, Director-Regulatory for Verizon. Written material (attached to the notice) was used. Robinson and Rasmussen highlighted the fact that the Joint Commentors' argument concerning the Federal Communications Commission's synthesis model was made for the first time in comments on the Draft Decision, a Rule 77.3 violation. In addition, Verizon noted that the common cost factor argument the Joint Commentors raise seeks only to open Verizon's petition to modify to issues that are being handled in the permanent phase of the proceeding.

12/10/04	R03-10-003	Order Instituting Rulemaking to Implement Portions of AB117 concerning Community Choice Aggregation.

Summary: On December 8, 2004, Eric Eisenman, Chief, Regulatory Relations, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), met with David Gamson, advisor to Cmmr. Brown, Sandra Burns, Manager, Gas & Electric Supply, and Paul Holton, Manager, Revenue Requirements, for PG&E, and Lad Lorenz, William Blattner, and Wayne Sakarias, for San Diego Gas and Electric Company. Eisenman explained that PG&E supports the implementation of Community Choice Aggregation (CCA). Burns expressed concerns about the proposed decision's (PD) discussion on the opportunity for CCA to take delivery of a portion of a Department of Water Resources (DWR) contract. Burns added that the cost responsibility surcharge (CRS) is a reflection of the above market component of PG&E's costs, and does not entitle the CCA to delivery of power. Burns also requested that the final order clarify that the $.022/kWh CRS includes only the DWR power charge and CTC. Holton explained that the PD's granting a CRS exemption for the Norton Air Force Base is a poor policy inconsistent with AB 117, and will lead to numerous other requests for exemptions.
